After your influenza vaccination you may experience soreness, redness, or swelling at the site, which should reduce quite quickly.

You may also experience a low grade fever, itching or aches and pain.

Rest, keep hydrated and the effects should soon pass. If you are concerned that your side effects are persisting, or are of a severe nature, contact your general practitioner immediately.

For emergencies call 000, or to report minor adverse events call the Adverse Medicines Events line on 1300 134 237.
